REIMAGINING BENGAL

MODERN PULSE, TIMELESS ROOTS

Curatorial note by Kallol Bose, Kolkata

For me it is an intimate return to the artistic language that shaped my earliest ways of seeing art. Bengal has never been a static idea — it is a living rhythm, layered with memory, emotion, conflict, poetry and stubborn hope. In bringing these works together, I wanted to trace that continuum: how artists from different generations reinterpret the familiar and the inherited, yet speak to the urgency of our present moment.

Each work here carries its own pulse — sometimes quiet, sometimes forceful — but always connected to the deeper cultural soil of Bengal. Whether through figuration, abstraction, symbolism or atmosphere, these artists reimagine the region not as nostalgia, but as a breathing landscape of thought and feeling. What emerges is a Bengal that is both ancient and utterly contemporary, rooted yet restless.

It gives me great joy to share this selection at Madras Art Weekend — a dialogue between heritage and renewal, memory and imagination. I hope viewers will encounter and experience the Bengal I believe in: evolving, expressive and bound by a timeless artistic spirit.

GALLERY G

Our Beginning

Founded in 2003, Gallery G emerged from a simple yet steadfast belief — that art belongs to everyone. Our purpose has always been to make fine art accessible, inclusive, and meaningful, creating a space where discovery meets value and every collector finds resonance.

Our Direction

Our direction is guided by a singular aim — to connect people with art they love and can live with. From young collectors taking their first step into the world of art to seasoned patrons seeking rare masterworks, Gallery G curates with intent, integrity, and imagination. Every visitor must leave with something — a work, a connection, or a conversation that endures.

Our Network

Over the years, Gallery G has built deep relationships with artists, estates, foundations, and institutions that share our belief in authenticity and excellence. This network allows us to present art across a wide spectrum — from legacy masters to contemporary visionaries — while upholding the highest standards of provenance and presentation.

Our Expertise

Our expertise lies in shaping collections that tell a story — of lineage, of context, of taste. We assist collectors in building meaningful portfolios for their homes, offices, and private institutions, combining scholarship with connoisseurship to ensure each acquisition stands the test of time.

Our Skills

With an intuitive understanding of both art and space, we transform environments through thoughtful curation. Our approach goes beyond display — it's about creating harmony between artwork, architecture, and the lives that inhabit those spaces.
